Hi Christine,

I wanted to follow up on this since the deadline was exactly a week ago. Please get back to me with an estimated response date.

Best,

Hi Ethan,

Since a few people were out this week, I won't be able to get back to you until next week. My apologies for indicating that I would have a response, but it has to be delayed just because key staff are out of the office. Thanks in advance for your patience.

Hello,

Do you know when you'll be able to get responses back to me?

I have several follow up questions I would like to ask depending on your responses.

Best,

Hi Tom,

My questions are below. I may have several follow-up questions depending on your responses, which is why I prefer an in person meeting, so please send responses by Wednesday so I have time to ask follow-up questions.

1. I have an email stating that Labotski resigned on January 19, 2018. The investigation report is dated November 28, 2017. What happened between the conclusion of the investigation and his resignation?
2. Were any staff (pro or student) informed of the investigation during the investigation or after it concluded? Was he instructed to tell, did he tell, or did someone else tell the student and pro staff members that worked under him that he was under investigation at any time? Were any other bookstore employees informed about the investigation?
3. In hindsight, is there anything you think you could have handled differently?
4. Did you know Labotski outside of work?
